PRODUCT NOTES

Please note that for Preen Verdigris, considerable variation between production batches is to be expected with this product. This is due to the small-batch nature of the raku-style reactive glazes used in its artisanal manufacture, as well as the three-dimensional shape of the tile, which causes the glaze to pool and break in unpredictable ways. Different batches may vary in colour intensity, tonal evenness, and in the contrast of the pooled 'rim' that forms around the edges of the tesserae.
